Looking at the News with Col. Hugh Clark

THE House of Commons is accustomed to members advocating economy and at the same time urging expenditures in their own ridings. In this they are truly representative, for the people also demand economy, so long as it does not affect expenditure in their own immediate neighborhood. But the Commons saw the spectacle lately of a Quebec member opposing a grant to his own constituency. That man is a patriot and, if he intends to run again, a brave one.

The nation that once declared by law that beer of over one-half of one per cent is intoxicating is now operating under a law which declares that 3.2 beer is not intoxicating. We fear that in both instances the law is not only a "hass" but a liar as well.

The proposal that the railways should be obliged to levy for pensions to men thrown out of employment by the co-operation program shows that there are still a few men in parliament who do not appreciate the plight of the railways and of the country which owns one of them.

The Hitler administration may or may not be a good one. It is Germany's government—not ours—and we should not allow its opponents to embroil us in any dispute with a country with which we are presently at peace.

Both parties to the dispute are spreading propaganda in foreign countries and we do not believe that the Nazi's have any advantage in that direction. Their antagonists, in Canada and the United States, are well equipped with power to influence public opinion through radio, moving pictures and press despatches.

The British foreign office ought to know its business, but really an apology is seldom worth having, and should not be demanded unless you are sure to get it or are prepared to fight and lick the other fellow if he refuses, in which case it is not worth the price.

Espionage and sabotage are charged against some engineers; whose answer is it's camouflage, or persiflage or badinage. By Moscow's wily racketeers.

When a government takes the position that it is not in the public interest to reveal what salaries certain public officials are receiving, the public may take for granted that some officials are being overpaid. And when the argument is advanced that such officials are so valuable they might—if it were known what small salaries they were receiving—be lured away by private enterprises, one can only be amused and laugh or be cynical and sneer.

Fashions are fleeting of course, but as a general thing they have more permanence than a permanent wave.

Town Council Hear Appeals At Annual Court of Revision

Very Few Changes Made In Assessment Property and Business

Members of the Vulcan town council met on Monday evening at 8 o'clock, acting as court of revision to consider appeals on assessments. Mayor King and all councillors were present.

Appeals from both property and business assessments were considered, as listed below, and complaints were on the grounds of too high assessments. The complainants were:

Mary Marcellus; lots 33-34; block 23.
J. H. Cook; lot 1, block 22.
W. D. Campbell; improvement on lot 6, block 26.
John Hunter, Sr. and John Hunter, Jr.; lots 1-2, block 33.
Joe Dobbs Jr.; improvements on lots 25 to 28, block 7.
F. L. Simington; lots 18 to 20 and part of 21-27; business property.
Dr. C. M. Carson, appealed for assessment of improvement on all his property.

C. B. Shimp; lot 23, block 2.
National elevator; elevator property.

Appealing business assessments were:
J. T. Willard, Canadian Pacific Express; Mrs. Margaret Dobbs and M. O. Peterson.

After carefully considering and discussing all appeals the following action was taken:
Re business assessments: M. O. Peterson be reduced from $350 to $250. The decision on appeal of Mrs. Margaret Dobbs was held over.

Re property assessments: W. D. Campbell, improvements on lot 6, block 26, a reduction of $2.00; J. Dobbs Jr., improvements on lots 25-28, block 7, a reduction of $350.

All other assessments were sustained.

Berrywater U. F. W. A.

The members of the Berrywater U. F. W. A. were entertained by Mrs. R. Herdman at Mrs. H. Douglass'. The meeting opened by singing "Alberta."

Mrs. R. Herdman gave a report on the raffling of the home canning collections, which showed a return of $15.

The date of the next meeting was set for April 28th at Mrs. N. Campbell's home, and Red Cross U. F. W. A. were invited to meet with us and provide one item on the program.

After the regular business was dispensed with Mrs. Amey gave a very instructive paper on gardening, in which were many good and practical points, to conclude the program. The wee tots of the meeting, instructed by Mrs. H. Haulton, played a very entertaining little game.

Rev. Father Cunningham was a Lethbridge visitor last week.

A young man in a Ford rolled into a gasoline station and said, "One gallon, please." The attendant sneered scornfully, "What are you trying to do, wean it?"

Mr. and Mrs. R. Willis and family left Thursday for Golden Prairie, Saskatchewan where they will take up residence and operate in a new business. Their many friends wish them every success.

GOOD WEATHER WHEAT SWOOPS UP

After about seven months winter, spring appears to have definitely arrived. Last week's snowstorm was followed by belated mild weather, the snow disappeared, and on Monday, April 24, the farmers at last got on the land. This is about three weeks behind last year, and is the latest since the spring of 1920. The soil is in excellent shape, and ploughing and cultivating were general the early part of the week.

Wheat markets have performed dramatically during the past week, making a jump of 5 cents last Saturday. Wednesday's local price by the load was 38 1/2 cts. Monday's price was 40 1/2 cts. During the past week the total gain has been about 10 cts. Although the price fluctuates from day to day, now gaining, now losing, the general trend is upward.

Mysterious Dr. "K"

Celebrated magician, who will appear at the Vulcan Theater, Vulcan on Monday evening, with his company. Press reports elsewhere in this issue indicate a high class entertainment

CLEAN-UP YARDS

With the bright sunshine of this week, Vulcan citizens have felt the clean up urge and have been busy in yard and boulevard raking and pruning. This week could well be called official clean-up week. Boulevards this year will be left in care of the owner or tenant whose property the same passes, and the same care should be given to these trees, as to the ones in your own yard. Many are working on their garden with keen anticipation for a bumper crop of vegetables and flowers.

HOSPITAL NOTES

Mrs. Wolfred who underwent an operation last week is recovering nicely.

E. M. Hollister is resting nicely after a recent attack of partial paralysis.

The superintendent wishes to thank Mrs. Wm. Campbell for a donation of linen; Gus Spaeth for a donation of eggs and Guy Walker for a donation of sausage.

G. Spaeth, who has been ill at the hospital for a number of weeks after an operation, was able to return to his home this week. Friends will be indeed glad to hear this news.

WEDDING BELLS

KERR—EAMOR

The marriage of Eileen Myrtle Eamor, eldest daughter of Mrs. M. G. Eamor and the late Mr. George Eamor of Vancouver, B.C., former residents of Vulcan, to Arthur Kerr, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. Kerr of Vancouver, B.C., former residents of Prince Rupert, took place on Wednesday 19th of April. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Alfred Wilson, pastor of the St. James Presbyterian Church.

The bride was dressed in a gown of hyacinth blue georgette, fashioned in princess style. Gray accessories completed her costume. She carried a bouquet of Ophelia roses, gardenias and maiden fern.

The bride's only attendant was her sister, Miss Florence Eamor, who chose a gown of powder blue flat crepe. Cut work trimmed the dainty puffed sleeves of her frock. Her accessories were in matching tones and her corsage consisted of peach roses and maiden hair fern.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's mother. The guests were received by Mrs. Eamor and Mrs. Kerr. Mrs. Eamor was attired in navy blue kinkie crepe trimmed with orchid and a hat of matching tones. Mrs. G. Kerr was attired in fawn with a hat of contrast color. Their corsages were red and pink carnations with maiden hair fern.

A profusion of daffodils and narcissi were used throughout the reception rooms. The table was covered by a lace cloth and centered with a tiered wedding cake, flanked by tall yellow tapers in silver sconces.

Later, Mr. and Mrs. Kerr left by boat for Victoria enroute south. Mrs. Kerr was born in the Red Cross district and started her school and musical education in Vulcan where she resided until going to Vancouver with her parents eight years ago.

Service Station Changes Hands

W. C. Rodney of Calgary Purchases Business From T. Mutz

W. C. Rodney, a man of experience of years in the tire and automobile business, has purchased the Vulcan business formerly known as the Sunshine Service Station from T. E. Mutz. The premises have been renamed Rodney's Service and announcement is made by advertisement in this issue of the change.

The new proprietor has been in possession since Monday and has been busy changing and repairing the building for the convenience of patrons. The exterior of the premises will be painted blue and white and will add much to the appearance of the street.

A complete stock of motorists' supplies will be carried including the nationally advertised Firestone tires, whose advertisements are now appearing in this paper. Vulcanizing work will be a specialty. A complete line of gasoline and oils will be stocked.

Mr. Rodney has also taken over the wholesale and retail bulk distribution station of the Regal Co., formerly operated by Mr. Mutz.

Mr. and Mrs. Rodney come from Calgary and have taken up residence in the Ed. Parson property.

HOLIDAYS OVER

The Easter holidays ended for the pupils of both the Vulcan high and public schools on Monday and all returned with renewed energy for the coming final examinations. Report for the Easter standing was not at hand to appear in this issue, but will appear in our next.

Holiday visitors to the coast, fourteen in number from Vulcan, are now arriving home, and report an excellent journey with lots of sunshine.

"MOVIE CRAZY"

Showing at the Vulcan theatre this week end is the mirthquake of comedy, Harold Lloyd in "Movie Crazy," his latest and reviewed as his best picture production. The picture is playing Friday and Saturday with a matinee Saturday at 3 o'clock. Manager Robson has shown an excellent high type of screen entertainment during the winter season past and is continuing this policy throughout the summer.

Berrywater Lecture

On Saturday evening, April 22nd a joint U.F.A. and U.F.W.A. meeting was held at the school. Mrs. C. Love president of the ladies' local, officiated in the chair.

The minutes being disposed of, the general business was dispensed with and the chairman thereupon called on the speakers of the evening, Dr. Carson of Vulcan, who chose for his subject "British Israelism." In the course of an interesting address the doctor dealt with the origin and early history of the house of Israel and Judah, showing the descent of the Anglo Saxon or rather the Agraian race from the house of Israel and the Jewish race from the house of Judah.

From quotations in the Old Testament he outlined and interpreted the various prophecies with the happenings at various periods of the world's history down to and including the Great War and though he probably did not entirely convince all his audience he opened up a serious channel of thought and probably earnest bible searching. Besides the members of the combined locals there were present visitors from Kirkdale, Mayview and Red Cross locals, the school being packed to capacity.

At the conclusion of the address Dr. Carson asked for and answered several questions and was accorded a hearty vote of thanks for his visit. Lunch kindly served by the ladies, was then partaken of during which the doctor was buttonholed by several enthusiastic U.F.A. members for his views on the C.C.F.; the Bennett government, etc., all of which he took in good part.

Events and Conditions in East As Seen by a Western Editor

Charles Clark Tells of Ottawa Impressions on Recent Trip

The following are a few of the observations recounted by C. Clark publisher of The Vulcan Advocate, who attended a meeting of the executive of the Canadian weekly newspaper association held at Ottawa recently.

The eastward trip was accompanied by snow over the prairie provinces. East from Calgary the fields of unthreshed grain were an evidence of hope deferred. But with favorable weather, it is expected that this grain will grade well when threshed. Manitoba is very apprehensive of the grasshopper plague, and well defined plans have been made for combatting this menace of the future.

Ottawa Impressions

The Budget debate was in progress during my stay in Ottawa. Premier Bennett, Messrs. King, Guthrie and Ralston were among the notable speakers whom I heard, with Ralston apparently making a favorable impression in his reply to the Budget speech.

There is a general feeling in Ottawa that the worst is behind us. It is being realized in the light of the present, that all governments have been borrowing too heavily and the payment in New York funds is an aggravation for which provision should be made in future. The events leading up to the present difficulties individual and national are also now apparent—the G.T.P., the watering of stock and exploitation of the people. Industries which originally were expanding healthily and normally, were seized upon by the covetous financiers, re-organized with watered stock totally unwarranted, and are now broken wrecks, with millions lost to investors. This glaring tragedy, and the matter of disproportionate interest charges are questions which are to the forefront of discussion and indications are that something will be done by Parliament this session. The axe which threatens the holders of bearer bonds, who to date, have evaded income tax was also creating a flurry in some circles. The sweepstakes bill was engaging the Senate, and as this develops, it permits one sweepstake in each province annually in support of hospital funds.

Lack of Initiative

H. H. Stevens was a speaker at a dinner of the C.W.N.A. executive. Speaking on the subject of unemployment and relief, he suggested a lack of initiative on the part of many, which was not so obvious in earlier generations of Canadians. He mentioned situations which might be met by local enterprise to moderate relief costs and stimulate morale. As an instance, he visited Fernie some time ago, and found 1500 on relief, amongst them numbers of old friends. He began to discuss with them the wealth of game in the mountains which might provide meat. By lifting the closed season, many of the Fernie citizens went forth hunting, killed enough game to feed themselves and others and were much better as a result of action and initiative.

C. N. R. Live Topic

The terrific overhead of the C.N.R. was regarded as one of the features which will react against quick recovery of Canada. There was a growing sentiment that some arrangement must be made to remove this charge of $1,000,000 a day from the country. While public ownership is all very well as a sentiment, the C.N.R. project is so huge, with so many ramifications that is most unwieldy as a government project. In the opinion of many amalgamation with the C.P.R., safeguarded by terms of the Railway Act, seemed the only possible escape from a burden which threatens to ruin the taxpayers.

Ontario Turbulent

In Ontario politics are seething with charges and counter charges breaking frequently. Premier Henry as stock holder in companies receiving benefits from the province, is under fire. The Orangemen are still a live and lively influence. The Liberals appear to be split in two factions with Sinclair heading the staid type, and Hepburn a stormy petrel entering the ring for more aggressive action. The C.C.F. has many followers, in fact there are more signs of activity.

KIRKCALDY W. I.

The Kirkcaldy W.I. met for their monthly meeting April 13th at the home of Mrs. Boose, with twelve in attendance. After the usual order of opening the meeting was given over to economics. The roll call was answered by hints on home economics. Mrs. Boose gave a splendid paper on the subject, dealing with paints, floor mops and other useful things. Mrs. Hagerman gave her report on the Lethbridge convention held in March, which was enjoyed by all. Following this Mrs. Scott gave a paper on making hot cross buns.

The meeting came to a close by a contest, put on by Mrs. Boose. There is to be a call meeting to be held at the home of Mrs. Bert Malsey, April 27th.

After the adjournment of the meeting a lovely lunch was served by the hostess.

HIGH COST OF SERVICE

Two incidents have occurred lately showing how embarrassing the strict enforcement of the Town Act may become. A school trustee in Banff was obliged to resign office, because he had received certain business from the school district. He is publisher of the Crag and Canyon, and no doubt did some job printing for the district. This printing otherwise would have had to be done outside of Banff, thus benefitting a business which contributed nothing to the taxes or financial life of Banff. But because he was a trustee, he was obliged to forfeit any pecuniary association with the board or violate the Town Act. Incidentally, Mr. Duncan, the trustee in question, after resigning has again put up his name for office, thus showing a willingness to sacrifice business that should come to him normally, and that should be retained in the town.

Again there is the case at Cochrane of a school trustee who entered into contract with the board for coal. It seems that another tender was for the same amount, but that the trustee whose resignation is called for, voted for himself and got the contract.

From week to week incidents such as this are coming up, and could be multiplied to indefinite length. There are probably very many school boards and councils, which are giving excellent service to their districts, and are functioning conscientiously, but which do not adhere to the letter of the Town Act. Members share in the normal business of town and school. But at any time anyone with a grudge or anyone who wanted to make trouble, could do so.

It seems entirely too much to ask of a merchant or other business man, that he should not only give his time and ability to his municipal office, but that he should also cut himself off from the possibility of sharing in any civic business.

The Act was framed to prevent a man using his civic office to divert business to himself and to grab off more than his share. In that respect it is an excellent and necessary deterrent. But when it is enforced to the extent that it involves sending out of town for work which might be done much more advantageously in the town, then it is a faulty act. It should be legal for civic officials to share on an equal footing with other citizens in town business. Otherwise many capable men will refuse to take office.

KEEPING CALM

In a recent issue of one of the city dailies, there were startling headlines reminiscent of old war days. These ran "Mutilated tongues; broken noses, sick old men mistreated; escaped victim of Nazi persecution recounts experiences." No one forgets the propaganda of war years, when tales of crucified soldiers, handless children and such lurid atrocities flared across the pages of the press, inciting rage and helping enlistment. The headlines these days bear an alarming similarity to those of eighteen years ago.

The British-Russian affair is also vividly reminiscent of the old war stuff. Whether its importance warrants the amount of space given, is a question. At any rate, there is little doubt that all this news is calculated to rouse a certain belligerence. What powerful hand is back of the whole business?

Although the public is still very simple, it has learned a little from the Great War, and is not so ready to get stirred up or linked up with far off crises. An engineer from Vickers electrical works, England, gets tangled up in Russian affairs. What connection is there between Vickers electrical company and the huge Vickers munition interests? What connection have munition interests with the whole situation? To what extent are Russia and Britain capitalizing the apparently insignificant difficulty for reasons of their own? And to what extent are these countries themselves controlled by war propagandists, more powerful than either?

Again in the matter of Jewish persecution in Germany, there have been meetings held in other countries, protesting against ill-treatment, creating diplomatic situations. What powers are back of these mass meetings, what influences are at work to entangle outsiders in a matter in which no facts are clear, and there is only charge and counter charge.

The only reaction that the average person feels to these tumults and alarms, is the conviction that there are a few men who are trying to bring about a war. Probably the nations involved will be only pawns in the big game. But evidently a few supermen want to increase their wealth and increase their power at the expense of the human race.

In the face of these obvious efforts, it is interesting to note the Pacifist movement at the Universities of Oxford, Columbia, Toronto and many other seats of learning in the English speaking world. The old men are inclined to sneer at these movements. White feathers float around as in the old barbaric days of 1915. But apparently the old men are unwilling to make any drastic move to prevent the recurrence of war. Somebody must take a stand or the whole futile business of wholesale murder will overwhelm us again. It is quite suitable and fitting that the young people should assert themselves. It is their lives that are in jeopardy. It is their lives which will be conscripted and tossed away, only to enrich the inhuman war lords. Youth is entitled to take the positive stand on war, because youth is the supreme sufferer. It requires courage to refuse to participate in bloodshed and wholesale carnage, and the only fear is that the young people may weaken and again give their lives as sacrifice for the enrichment of munition makers and profiteers.

BLINDNESS OF SOUL

The first days of spring are the most precious of the year. They release winter-locked nature, and stir the chilled human spirit. They forecast fragrant air and leafy trees and flowering shrubs. They turn man's eyes outward to the world about him and to a new appreciation of outdoor life. In this connection an article recently published in the Cosmopolitan has a special appeal. It tells the story of a man who was born blind, but who recently received his vision. He says:

"There are numberless things about my new world and its sighted inhabitants that perplex me. But most outstanding is the fact that so many of you are oblivious of all the beauty around you—colors, flowers, trees, fields, rivers, mountains, skies, sunsets, moonlight and the sea and all the glories of nature that make the world seem like a Garden of Eden to me. I cannot help thinking that there is another kind of blindness almost as bad as that of the eyes—a blindness of the soul that keeps sighted people from really seeing and enjoying the beauties of nature."

It is no doubt true that human beings who have always enjoyed the gift of vision, may become dulled, oblivious to the wonders which are revealed from day to day. Yet these are miracles, renewed perpetually, free for all to enjoy. It is blindness and indifference alone which prevent enjoyment. It would be an experiment worth while to imagine oneself gazing upon a green tree, upon the distant Rockies, upon the budding flowers, for the first time. How great would be our thanksgiving, how high our delight!

The rigors and restrictions of winter are behind us. The days ahead are days of beauty and of hope. A capacity of appreciation can be developed, and the eyes may be opened to the beauty of the world. Blindness of soul is a voluntary defect, preventing us from capturing a serenity which only love of nature can bestow.

A GREAT LIGHT

Adversity is the cause of many strange conversions, perhaps none stranger than the pending swing to lower tariffs. Less than three years ago high and higher tariffs were considered to be, by the people of Canada, the specific for their economic ills. Across the international border the Hawley-Smoot tariff had driven the last nail in the coffin of trade with Canada. All the world was girding for battle to the death with trade restrictions the principal weapon. The last free trade country forced into the struggle was obliged to arm in self defence. Then, when the simple obvious was achieved, trade being brought to a condition of collapse, all the absurdities of the situation began to crowd themselves upon the belligerents. That is the situation we have reached now.

One of the main manifestations of sober sense is the evident willingness of both Canada and the United States to exploit the possibilities of a reciprocal trade agreement. How complete a reversal of policy is this to the locked, banged and bolted door, how tremendous a conversion on both sides. Removal of tariffs is to be on the agenda of the Washington Conference. President Roosevelt is said to favor a lateral cut of 10 per cent. immediately. These are the signs of a changing trade outlook that even the most forceful of high protectionists, if he reads them aright, must be willing to agree foreshadows a quick turn to lower tariffs, to a repudiation of that policy of national selfishness so productive of trouble in some cases, chaos in others. The high protectionist is out; he has run his course. Henceforward the low tariff advocates will hold sway. The people that walked in darkness have seen a great light.—Morning Albertan

FLEXIBLE INTEREST

Anyone following the prices of commodities over the past 25 years, cannot fail to be struck with the great fluctuations and the lack of relationship between purchased goods and primary products. During war years the price of grain and livestock was very high. Manufactured goods made all haste to get on the same high plane. But in the early years of the 1920-30 decade, farm produce dropped, without any similar drop in the line of manufactured goods. Needless to say the rate of interest remained fixed, at all times.

The Observer in the Calgary Herald is also concerned about present interest payments, and it is his theory that interest payments annually should bear the same relation to the rate agreed upon, as did commodity values for the year, to the commodity value base in the year when the loan agreement was entered into.

This would provide a flexibility about interest which would ensure the lender of higher rates if commodity prices climbed, or of lower rates if these prices fell. As applied to land mortgages, it would avoid the present catastrophic situation in which it takes three times the wheat to pay interest that it took on January 31, 1929. The Observer continues:

"What seems to be the particular objection to the scheme is the matter of international relations of a financial sort. The argument is that were we to adopt any such system for interest payments it might seriously affect our borrowings abroad. Personally, I would not feel too badly if it did. With the experience we now have with foreign interest payments on an adverse exchange basis, I am inclined to think a good many of us are sorry we did any borrowing abroad. And the less we do of it in the future, the better off we shall be. But is there any good reason why the system I have suggested, if it is sound and workable, should not be applied only in a purely domestic way? If I get the present situation right in Canada, the thing that is bothering most people is not foreign debts and interest payments, but those which have to do altogether with our homes and farms, and which were contracted with fellow-Canadians—purely a domestic situation. At the moment there are millions of Canadian funds tied up in mortgage and loan agreements on Canadian securities and properties—solidly frozen assets for the reason that the borrowers are not able to meet the fixed interest charges with commodity values at their present low level. The system I suggest would at least assure to the lenders for the time being what might be termed a half loaf, and surely a half loaf is better than no bread at all."

An exchange says that a prairie farmer questioned by an income tax inspector regarding his income over a period of years, wrote as follows: "You asked about my crops for the last five years; well, I'll tell you. In 1924 I was dried out, in 1925 I was haled out; in 1926 I was frozen out; in 1927 I was blown out, and in 1928 I just walked out and I'm still out."

SOMETHING TO BE PROUD OF

Canada looks back upon 1932 with pride. The nation retained world leadership in the export on wheat, printing paper, asbestos; was second in gold, platinum, cobalt; was third in wheat flour; fourth in automobiles and wood pulp fifth in rubber tires. Canada winds up the year with a favorable trade balance of $50,000,000, contrasted with an unfavorable balance of $10,000,000 in 1931. There have been troubles but they are being surmounted. Canada is a huge country, with only about 10,000,000 population—but the Canadians are an exceedingly hardy handful. Christian Science Monitor.

WHAT 5 CT RISE MEANS TO ALBERTA

When Wheat Goes Up, Prospects for Province Have Instant Reaction

An indication of what any rise in wheat prices means to the province, is shown in figures compiled by the Morning Albertan. Taking as a basis, the rise in wheat of 5½ cents between April 15 and 22, it showed that the actual value in wheat on hand in the province is an increase of $1,922,043. This is on a basis of stocks in Alberta country elevators April 7, when the figure stood at $4,946,243. Total deliveries to that date, since August 1 were 119,627,664 bushels. The last Dominion government estimate of the Alberta wheat crop placed 1932 production at 164,000,000.

Added to this is the amount of grain in stock. If prices hold firm or continue to rise the unthreshed grain will have substantially increased in value. When prices have reached the low prices of the past few months, a five cent rise is spectacular.

Landlady—And what's wrong now? Youthful Lodger—I just wanted to say that I think you get too much mileage out of this roller towel.

Another pleasing feature of spring is that you can turn on the radio almost anywhere without having them coming down left wing, passing to centre and putting in a hot shot that hits the goal post.

SEARLE GRAIN CO PUSHES GOOD SEED

The Searle Grain Co. has instituted an important experiment this year in the distribution of seed for illustration purposes, to various farmers in Southern Alberta. Through the elevator agents at twenty-two points from Staveland to Burdette, north to Rockyford and west to Mazeppa, the Company is distributing samples of fourth generation Registered Marquis grown at the Lone Rock farm, Sask. At each point several farms will be selected for this illustration work. These illustration plots will be adjacent to the highways and clearly marked. In addition the Searle Co. will sow half acre of Elite Marquis for purposes of comparison.

Geo. McMann, Searle Grain Co. agent at Vulcan, will place some of this seed grain with a few farmers in various parts of the district for illustration purposes.

Some time in August a district field day will be held, and comparisons will be made showing development at the different illustration points, and also comparing these with growth of other grain.

A T A URGES 5 YEARS H SCHOOL

At Annual Convention Favor Final Exams to Students Not Promoted

At the annual convention of Alberta Teachers' Alliance, held last week, it was resolved that pupils in Grades VIII, IX and X will in future be permitted to write departmental examinations in cases where they are not rated efficient enough to earn promotion.

The convention also approved a resolution providing for increasing the Alberta high school course from four years to five years. In cases of pupils who progress faster than the average, provision will be made for a shortening of the course.

Delegates placed themselves on record as being definitely opposed to any discrimination in salary payments to teachers except those based on the amount of work done or seniority of service or qualifications.

Considerable discussion was carried on over the question of discrimination in salaries paid to men and women teachers, the majority favoring rigid adherence to the policy of "equal pay for equal work," regardless of sex.

The government will be asked to not permit high school work in classes above Grade IX in one and two-room schools.

The convention also recommended that a new text book be selected for history classes in Grade VII and VIII.

HIGH COST OF DYING

It is still a lot cheaper to keep on living these days, even with the added tax on gasoline, sugar, beans, booze, cigarettes and other things which people cannot get along without. A wool coat only costs $10, while a wooden one costs $85 at least. A taxi to the show is 50c, to the cemetery $10. To shave a live man costs two-bits, to shave a dead man $5. A live man can fill his own hide with fluid for less than a dollar, an embalmer gets $15. Two laborers will plant grain a week for $10; they charge that much a day for planting dead men. We just have to admit living is cheaper than dying—so let's go on.—Consort Enterprise.

PICKED UP IN EASTERN VISIT

ity in Ontario than in the West. Communism is not without followers also and the recent jailing of five Communists has not helped the situation. Much better to allow Tim Buck and his vociferous followers to carry on their soapbox orations.

Protest Hitler

Massey Hall, Toronto, was the scene of a mass meeting on Sunday, March 24, in a protest against Hitler's Jew baiting campaign. Prominent Ontario men, including Premier Henry, appeared on the platform to voice their opinions. Others not on the platform, blamed the Jews for the last great war. They control the wealth of the world, hence the depression. They dominate business, scientific research and in general force all to toe the line. There was great difference of opinion.

Proud of Western Govt. and People

Comparisons are odious with individuals as well as governments, but I frankly confess I return to the West with a higher opinion of the calibre of the Western people, as well as of our provincial government. There has been criticism of the department of public works in Alberta, in connection with road construction, but I venture the statement that no province in the dominion will compare with Alberta for capable and honest administration of public work. Hon. O. L. McPherson has come through the investigation of his department in a manner that rebounds to his credit. It is well for Alberta that he is in charge.

Find Business Good

Although one of the depressing sights of the East is the frequency of closed factories and the collapse of old established businesses (such as Catto's, Toronto), yet certain agencies report good business. Encouraging word comes from Kellogg's, Quaker Oats, Aylmer Products and so on, who have weathered the storm well, due in part, no doubt, to the vigor of their advertising. They, together with other businesses in the East, are strong for a closer union of East and West. They see a mutual need, and there is evident no disposition to minimize the importance of the West to the East.

There is a noticeable return of horse drawn deliveries, and heavy draught teams which sold for $250 last fall, this spring bring $450. ance of 15,000 or more, and there are many other evidences of cash on hand. Ottawa of course, is in the happiest position of any city.

LAWN REPAIRS ARE NEEDED NOW

Early Spring is the proper season for lawn repairing and few indeed are the lawns which do not require a little extra attention after the recent and unrelenting winter. If at all possible a heavy roller should be used when the earth is soft, but lacking this implement a home-made pounder will serve. This treatment forces the small roots back into their proper element and encourages quick growth. A spring tonic in the form of some good commercial fertilizer high in nitrogen is also advisable. This stuff must be applied carefully, to avoid burning. Bare spots should be thoroughly raked and then seeded heavily with a good mixture. Cover by raking lightly one way only and roll or pound. It is well to cover such spots with brush or wire or the birds will get most of the seed. Where clover is in favor, the old practise of sprinkling a pound or two of White Dutch over the lawn every spring and then raking lightly if there is no convenient rain to wash in, has much to commend it. Good seed, commercial fertilizers, all seed houses put up a tilizer, and frequent mowing, are three essentials in the development of a splendid lawn of fine stemmed grasses free from weeds. For shaded corners, all seed houses put up a special mixture of grasses which do not require full sun.

Turney Valley Business Increasing Rapidly

As an indication of the activity in the Valley, an observer on Wednesday afternoon took stock of business round the Independent wells. At the Independents alone, there were 135 trucks arrived to take fuel at the well heads. These averaged about 500 gallons, making a total of approximately 67,500 gallons loaded. The trucks were from Saskatchewan, B.C., Northern and Southern Alberta, the great majority being from the south part of the province. The volume of business is indicated in this apparently average day in the Valley, exclusive of Royalty and Imperial activities. Moreover it shows the need of a road connecting Southern Alberta directly with the Valley. The greatest amount of business apparently comes from the southern and eastern routes, converging on High River, and the saving in time and expense of a direct all-weather route is obvious. The attaining of such a route should be regarded as a vital objective by all organizations in the district. There seems also a growing conviction that the field is likely to develop richly in the Longview district. New wells are being spudded in, and there is a hopeful stir in oil interests in this area.

Other encouraging developments in the Valley include the completion of the absorption plant of the Royalty Company which will be ready for work shortly. This has a capacity of 75,000,000 cubic feet daily, and is said to be the only one in Canada.

Progress has also been made on a proposal to build an absorption plant and carbon black plant to handle tail gas from the Independent wells. This would be for the purpose of consuming waste, and a committee is investigating the commercial and financial aspect of such a project.

Statistics quoted at a meeting of interested parties, showed that in Turner Valley about 200,000,000 cubic feet of waste gas is being burned daily, from which about 100,000 gallons of 88 to 92 degree Beaume gravity natural gasoline or 3000 barrels, could be extracted, through an absorption plant. Canada is now importing nearly 2,000,000 gallons a month of this product from United States, duty free. Much of it is hauled from Oklahoma and Texas to Canadian points.

The Imperial plant now being constructed will process approximately 40 per cent. of the waste gas, it was said.

To properly use this product it must be mixed with a large amount of kerosene, which Canada is importing at an average of 150,000 gallons monthly with a duty of half a cent a gallon.

Sterling Pacific will drill a No. 3 well in the near future, by contract. This will be drilled at the south end of the Valley.

WET AND DRY YEARS IN WEST

A study of the meteorological records for 48 years at Medicine Hat, which is the central point of the short grass plains, or so-called dry area, indicates that the driest year on record was 1886, and 1927 the wettest. Dry years occurred previous to 1900 and have happened periodically ever since. Information already obtained by the Dominion Range Experimental Station at Manyberries, Alberta, where investigations have been planned to study the effect of climatic changes from year to year, shows the absolute necessity of making provision for dry years by controlled grazing and the development of a permanent water supply.

ALBERTA UNLOADS R R IN GOOD TIME

In 1928 when Premier J. E. Brownlee of Alberta, negotiated the sale of the Northern Alberta Railways to the Canadian Pacific and the Canadian National Railways jointly he closed out an account which, to the time of sale, had recorded total losses to the province of $17,600,000.

Mr. Brownlee may now pat himself on the back and tell the people of the province that he saved them a great deal of money since. The Northern Alberta Railways has proved a profitless venture for the two railway systems. The annual statement of the Canadian National Railways records that the operations of the Northern Alberta Railways Company resulted in a net loss in 1932 of over $1,000,000, as compared with a loss of over $1,100,000 in 1931, which loss was jointly by the two large railway systems.

Provinces usually are not able to unload their losing ventures on other institutions on such a profitable basis.—Financial Post.

HAIRLESS PIGS NEED IODINE

Goitre in calves and lambs and hairlessness in pigs are prevalent in districts where there is a deficiency of iodine in the soil. In such districts the use of potassium iodide in the form of iodized salt is advised by the Dominion Department of Agriculture. Commercial iodized salt can be procured, or, if it is desired to mix it at home, the procedure is simple. Spread out 100 pounds of dry common salt evenly on a clean floor, and after dissolving two ounces of potassium iodide in sufficient water, sprinkle the liquid evenly over the salt. A good rule in feeding salt to swine is to feed one-half pound per pig per month, varying this according to the size and age of the pigs.

MYSTERIOUS DR. K FINE MAGICIAN

(From the High River Times)

The only disappointing feature in the performance of the Mysterious Dr. K. given on Wednesday night in the Town Hall was the attendance, which was enough to discourage any troupe. However Dr. K., Madame Kora Dora and assistants, went right ahead with the entertainment as if the hall was filled, and what was lacking in crowd was made up in applause. The sleight of hand tricks were skilfully done and many were new to the audience. The illusions of flying doves, rabbits and so on developed out of thin air were very clever, and bewildering. Al Thomas proved to be a receptacle for innumerable unexpected articles, and a number of the children were also called to the stage to help in providing mysteries.

The Chinese skit was amusing and the Magic Carpet of Bagdad provided the material for good entertainment. Madame Kora Dora with her crystal sphere answered all questions submitted and was attractive and pleasing. The stage draperies of black were very effective and the whole performance interesting, deft and smooth running.

Mysterious Dr. K., celebrated Magician and assistants, will appear in the theatre at Vulcan on Monday, evening, May 1st at 8:15 sharp.

A FEW SMILES OR CHUCKLES

The story is told that during the war an old patriot was driving in the country and saw a young man milking a cow. She thought the young man was old enough to enlist so she stopped and said: "Young man why are you not at the front?" "Cause there ain't no milk at that end."

Question: "What is the difference between (1) a gardener, (2) a billiard player, (3) a gentleman, and (4) a sexton?" Answer: "The first minds his peas; the second minds his cues; the third minds his p's and q's; and the fourth minds his keys and pews."

A kind-hearted English vicar one day observed an old woman laboriously pushing a pram up a steep hill. He volunteered his assistance, and when they reached the top of the hill in answer to her thanks: "Oh, it's nothing at all! I'm delighted to do it. But as a little reward may I kiss the baby?" "Baby! Lor' bless you, sir," she returned, "it ain't no baby; it's the old man's beer."—N.Y. World-Telegram.

Please teacher, I had a toothache, answered Tommy. Has it stopped, asked the teacher sympathetically. I don't know. What do you mean? Don't you know if your tooth has stopped aching? No teacher, Dr. Haworth, the dentist kept it.

One of our exchanges reported last week that the funeral director of that place had added a fine "three-way" funeral coach to his equipment. We wondered what those three ways are. We had always thought that when one approached his funeral he had only two ways from which to make a choice.—Arthur Enterprise.

A very smartly-dressed girl at a certain race meeting was specially conspicuous by the number of colored buttons which adorned her coat; Two down-at-heel tramps watched her regal progress with interest. "Did you see that?" one remarked to the other, "all them buttons, an' me 'hold ing up me pants wiv string."

Employer—Jimson, you're a swindler. I gave you a day off yesterday to bury your mother-in-law and today I met her on the street. Jimson—Excuse me. I didn't say she was dead. I only said I would like to go to her funeral.—Strathmore Standard.

Looking at the News

Maple Leafs and Boston Bruins played 105 minutes of extra time to break a tie and then they wonder why they die untimely. Not one of them will escape permanent harm from such exertions. "Butchered to make a Roman holiday" is not a poetical fancy.

Charles Hunter Rogers admits now that he had a good deal of fun when he was hoaxing the public with faked manuscripts, including the declaration of independence, and faked masterpieces of art. The daily newspapers that exploited his forgeries—what have they to say about it? Were they hoaxed or did they have some fun too fooling their public?

The five per cent. tax on the interest on bonds payable to non-resident Canadians may be wrong, but the argument that it is going to make it difficult for provinces and municipalities to float further loans leaves us cold. Anything that has that effect is an advantage. "I would it were impossible," said Dr. Johnson to a lady who had told him that the piece she had just played on the spinet was difficult.

A friend who is not usually an optimist sees a change for the better in conditions. People are not losing money as fast now as they did two or three years ago, he says.

Prosperity is always in evidence when and where hockey matches are being held but even an economist would not argue that prosperity can be made widespread and constant by having hockey matches everywhere all the time.

A bill introduced into one of our legislatures would, if it carried, have obliged pedestrians to carry lights at night. It met the same fate as another proposal jocularly made in the early days of motordom, that license numbers should be displayed under the car, so that when a pedestrian was run over he could jot down the number for use at the inquest.

DISCING OUT THE WILD OATS

With the abundance of surface moisture there is little fear of a poor germination when once the crop is seeded. This moisture also makes ideal conditions for destroying wild oats. As soon as the land dries off sufficiently to permit of cultivation, the wild oat land should be disced. This discing will cover the wild oat seeds and allow the heat to get into the soil. The result is that ideal conditions will be set up to get the wild oats and volunteer grain to grow and so give the farmer an opportunity to destroy them.

By unanimous consent, the Hoboes Union of Canada decided that the five worst cities for hoboes in Canada were Port Arthur, Kamloops, Brantford, Moncton and Halifax.

A refinery plant for refining crude oil has been built on the McDougall-Segur lease. This company has three high gas pressure wells and two crude oil wells with 100 barrels daily capacity. It is also spudding in for No. 6 well, with the hope of getting crude oil, which they expect to reach at a depth approximately 2800 feet. Mr. Hill is engineer, with Ray Woodneyfield superintendent.
